Mam Fish Arranges a Theatrical Exit from the Assembly for Him-Pavey's Real Es-tate Sale Bill Gets Through the Lower House - Some Investigations Ordered,

ALBANY, Feb. 12.-It was McKinley day in Albany to-day. The Ohio Governor breakfasted with Gov. Morton, and was received at recess in both branches of the Legislature under escort of a joint committee. Saxton and Fish seemed to vie as to who should do the most honor to the Ohio man, and Fish won out handsomely. His last touch was very theatrical.

Mr. McKinley, in a corner near the Speaker's desk, had been presented to Mrs. Fish and some other ladies, and tarried to talk to them. The House had resumed business, discussing the repeal of an act to prevent the deposit of carrion offal, or dead animals in the North and East rivers. Suddenly a sharp rap of the gavel was heard. Every member's attention was attracted The Speaker motioned to them to rise, and Mr. McKinley passed out through the main aisle while the House was in the position that might be described as a standing salute, Rap went the gavel again, and down sat every body except Mr. Wray, who kept his feet to talk

Mr. McKinley made two little and very commonplace speeches, one on each side of the Capitol, before he departed from it, and left the members and Senators to speculate upon the possible political significance of it all. Mr. McKinley is here as the orator of the occasion of the celebration of Lincoln's birthday by a local Republican organization. If there was any one interested in fostering a New State McKinley boom, the exaggerated attentions paid to him would be plain to understand. But it is believed that the machine in the State is looking toward the East for a standard be instead of toward the West. Reed and not Mc-Kinley is supposed to lie close to the hearts of those on top in New York to-day. They should lose no time in contriving a pretext for a visit to Albany by the man of Maine.

Mr. Wray passed his repeal bill in time. It is more generally known as the Shore Inspector's bill. The Republicans started a fight on the office last year when its appointment was in Democratic hands, and were reluctantly forced to keep it up and knock themselves out of that much practice. Some of them had the hardihood to suggest the usual tactics and a rightabout-face shift on the bill this year, but the leaders saw that this would not do as a matter of policy. Mr. McKeown of Brooklyn and Mr. Finn of New York made the point that the abo-lition of the office, if desired, ought to be accomplished without repealing the laws protecting the waters of the harbor from being defiled by the refuse of factories and all sorts of objectionable material.

Mr. Hennessy corrected the majority speakers in these words: "It is sought to give the impression that this Republican Legislature is undoing Democratic legislation. The law you are repealing was passed by a Republican Legislature and signed by a Republican Governor. The first man to hold office under it was a Republican." Curiously enough, the same measure as a Senate bill, introduced by Mr. Mullin, was passed by the Senators this morning. They will therefore cross in their legislative courses in the lofty corridor between the chambers. To facilitate matters, one will have to be recommitted to make way for the other.

No one paid any attention to it in the Senate,

No one paid any attention to it in the Senate, and after it had passed Senator Cantor rose to say that he had voted for it inadvertently, not because of any objection to the abolition of the office, but because of his opinion that in some way the police powers of the law should be continued for the protection of the harbor of New York.

Another interruption to the Assembly's consideration of its voluminous calendar was the Another interruption to the Assembly's consideration of its voluminous calendar was the vote on the slection of a Regent of the University. This was had on schedule time at 12 o'clock. At the beginning of the roll call it seemed very doubtful who would be elected. There were votes for "Dr. Vanderveer," for "Albert H. Vanderveer," for "Albert H. Vanderveer," for "Albert Vanderveer," and Leader Ainsworth voted for "Albert J. Vanderveer," Speaker Fish at last informed the House that there was no middle letter in the popular Doctor's name, and Dr. Albert Vanderveer got the Republican vote. Dr. Samuel B. Ward got the Democratic wate.

Pavey's Real Estate Exchange bill, which had been laid over on the opter of third read-Pavey's Real Estate Exchange bill, which had been laid over on the order of third reading, was called up to-day and put upon its passage. Ex-Assemblyman Sheffield was not on hand to lobby on the floor for the measure this time, nor did the Speaker evince his interest in it by leaving the chair to work for it. He left no opportualty for any confusion about his position, though, for Speaker Clerk's Roehr was at Ainsworth's elbow all of the time he was not drumming up members.

Some of Hoehr's reports of the reluctance on the part of some Republicans to swallow the dose in this bill caused Ainsworth to give notice that he would move a call of the House on it. The corridor loungers who wished to avoid voting for it were thus whipped into line.

Mr. Foley denounced it as a bad bill, which the good reputstion of its introducer had prevented from receiving the rigid scrutiny that would disclose its character. He waved his point

Mr. Foley denounced it as a bad bill, which the good reputation of its introducer had prevented from receiving the rigid scrutiny that would disclose its character. He urged his point that the bill ought to provide that the Judges be permitted to order real estate sales to be held wherever they pleased, instead of having the sales go to a designated place.

Mr. Pavey made an energetic speech in favor of the bill, and everybody's interest was whetted when Mr. Hell, a New York city Republican, apoke against the bill. He said thirty of the real estate auctioneers in New York agreed with him and five were with the other side. It was merely a question of business rivalry between two exchange salesrooms, and one side had tried to make it a political question and appealed to the Legislature to intervene with its powers. He thought that the matter of the judicial sales should be in the control of the Judges, as it always had been.

Mr. Pavev sits near Mr. Bell and began to catechise him on the record of the case. Mr. Hell was ready for it, and answered promptly and spiritedly. Both seemed to forget that there was such a thing as a Speaker, or that they were surrounded by fellow members. They simply talked at and to each other.

It was a very peculiar scene, but an even more peculiar one occurred on the roll call. Mr. Hoops did not want to vote. He was not clear enough on the right and wrong involved to vote with his party, and he dared not vote no, as it had been plainly stated that the motives of any one who did so would be impugned. He was awkward about it, and when the Speaker made adead set for him he stammered out: "I refuse to vote."

The Speaker started to compel him to, but a dead set for him he stammered out: "I rethese to vote."

The Speaker started to compel him to, but
Mr. Foley moved that he be excused. The Speaker tried to ignore the motion, but Mr.
Foley was persistent, and Speaker Fish, in a fash of presence of mind, saw what he was doing and how unlikely it was that the House would support him even with 105 Kepublicans in it. He made a quick shift, and demanded to know what reason Mr. Hoops had for asking to be excused. The member from the Bowery was not very glib with his excuse. He managed to say that he was "evenly divided" in the matter and "could not express his honest convictions." While he was floundering about in great dis-white he was floundering about in great distress, Mr. Ainsworth, who saw the mistake the Speaker was making, suggested the advisability of excusing the member. He was excused and the Real Estate Exchange bill rolled on without Hoops. It was carried by an almost strictly party vote, while Mr. William Leary stood up close to the rail, washing his hands within visible soap and water. Mr. Sheffeld was 150 miles away, but Mr. Leary had the Speaker and the Assembly with him.

In the Senate Uncle Dan'l Bradley got an early morning intimation from the Chair to show him where he is at. He recently made one of his characteristic speeches against a resolution from Senator Reynolds for the appointment of a committee to investigate the fee offices in Brooklyn with a view to determining whether they ought to be made salaried offices. Of course, after he had spoken against it the resolution passed. The committee, as announced to-day, consists of the Brooklyn Senators. Reynolds, Owens, and Coffey. Uncle Bradley shinks that he is a Brooklyn Senator. There must be a mistake somewhere.

The legislative fashion of inquiring and investigating by committee and by resolution was faithfully followed in the Senate to-day. Mr. Sullivan put in a resolution calling upon the New York Police Commissioners to transmit to the Senate within ten days a report upon its reasons for not calling upon the Civil Service Commission for an eligible list from which to make appointments to fill the many-existing vacancies.

Senator Lexow, who had just reported the amanded police bills thought that this resolu-make appointments to fill the many-existing vacancies.

Senator Lexow, who had just reported the amended police bills, thought that this resolution ought to go to his committee.

This was rather a surprise to everybody. Mr. Lexow seems to be the only one not aware of the fact that his committee has been handling work while in a moribund condition and that it is now very dead. Senator O'Sullivan's resolution was sent to the Cities Committee.

Senator Coffey's resolution of inquiry dealt with the Union Ferry Company's neglect to run its South Brooklyn ferries for several days. He spoke of the particular hardship of the closing of Hamilton Ferry without active. He know that there was ice in the river, but said that tugboats and other craft could be seen getting around when the ferryboats were tied up. He wanted to know if the chatter obligations of the company were not mirringed upon, and under his resolution, which was passed, the Committee on Commerce and Navigation will try and land out.

Among the bills passed was Senator O'Sulli.

Among the bills passed was Senator C'Sulli-van's emipowering the authorities to make contracts for the transportation of policemon and firemen on duty. Also "Corn Doctor" Smel-zer's bill of foundation interest incorporating the chirocodiets into the Pedic Society. Bills passed—Senate:

Senator Cantor's, providing for payment of expenses, proceedings against District Attorney John B. reliows.

Senator O'Connor's, authorising extra bond issue in New York for Mulberry Bend and St. John's Parks Tenement House Commission bill: Assembly:

Assembly:

Mr. Gardiner's, appropriating $40,000 for an armory at Hudeon; also appropriating $10,500 for an armory at Amsterdam.

Mr. Relsey's, appropriating $75,000 for a State Normal School at tosuesee,

Mr. Wray's, providing for two sealers of weights and measures in Brooklyn.

Mr. Wray's, prohibiting the operation of railroads on Yort Hamilton avenue in Brooklyn.

Mr. Chambers's, repealing the provision that societies for the prevention of cracity to animals shall not exercise power except in the counties in which they are incorporated. incorporated.

Mr. Armstrong's, dividing the State into judicial de-partments under the new Constitution. Bills introduced—Senate:

Senator Smelzer, creating a Sinte department to be called the Bureau of Animal industry, to carry out the Anti-tuber-culosis law.

Senator Smelzer, repealing the law authorizing the New York Central Railroad to collect 5 cents extra fare from persons not buying tickets.

Senator persons not buying tickets.

Senator Wolfert, providing for the removal of officials in Kinge county.

Senator Reynolds, providing that the head of the department buildings in Brooklyn shall be Commissioner of Buildings, with power to appoint subordinates and issue or revoke permits &c. Also,

Retiring all Brooklyn firemen at the age of 60 years, Also. Bills introduced Senate:

Empowering the Fire Commissioner of Brooklyn to sell useless property, and appoint telegraph operators, themen, and isborers in addition to other employees, and reorganizing the force. Someter Sulliv population or over to display at the box office a list of prices of admission, and to print the price on each ticket, also making violations a misdemenor. owering the Fire Commissioner of Brooklyn to

Assembly: Assembly:

N. Answorth, appropriating $75,000 to pay canal awards, also appropriating $5,000 to pay other than canal awards made by the State Board of Claims, and $90,000 to pay the Marah land claim under a Court of Appeals decision.

Mr. Babcock, restoring the law regarding the term of supervisors, town clerks, and cummissioners of highways to what it was before last year's amendments. The bill does not affect the term of those in office.

BURT'S NAME HELD UP AGAIN. Senator Lexow Succeeds in Getting Committee Action Postponed,

ALBANY, Feb. 12.-Col. Silas W. Burt's nomination as Civil Service Commissioner was again laid on the shelf this afternoon through the efforts of Senator Lexow. Senators Mullin. Kilburn, Lexow, Smelzer, Cantor, and Parker met in the Finance Committee room and it was the general expectation that Col. Burt's name would be reported to the Senate for confirmation. A representative of the Civil Service Reform Association tive of the Civil Service Reform Association was present to vouch for Col. Burt's Democracy in case ex-Senator Charles P. McClelland appeared to question it. McClelland not appearing nothing was said on the subject. Senator Cantor moved to report Col. Burt's name, and a vote was about to be taken, when Senators Lexow and Kilburn insisted that the committee should go into executive session. When the newspaper men had retired, Senator Lexow protested against any action being taken. A vote on the motion to report showed Senators Mullin, Smelzer, Cantor, and Parker for it, and Senators Lexow and Kilburn against. Senator Lexow then made it a personal matter, and labored so Lexow and Kilburn against. Senator Lexow then made it a personai matter, and labored so earnestly with his colleagues that the votes were withdrawn, and it was agreed to postpone action till next Tuesday's meeting.

Senator Lexow claims Col. Burt as a nominee from his district, which he has extended to take in all New York county, and insists that by Senatorial courtesy he is entitled to name the time when Col. Burt shall be confirmed or rejected. At present he is not satisfied with the Democracy of Gov. Morton's nominee.

POLICE BILL CONFERENCE

Republican Reformers Shunting Parkhurst

It was admitted yesterday by a gentleman interested that the story is true that Charles Stewart Smith and some others of the Republican "reform" element who are opposed to the Lexow police reorganization bill have arranged for a conference with Senator Lexow and other Republicans of his mind to meet next Saturday morning and endeavor to arrange amicably all differences of opinion and agree on a bill that all Republicans at least can stand by. The meeting has been arranged for the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, at 11 o'clock on Satur-day, and it is understood that Dr. Parkhurst is not wanted, as he is looked on as an irrecon-cilable.

not wanted, as he is located to a scholar cilable.

The effort which Mr. Smith and his friends are making is directed specially to a separation of the Election Bureau from the Police Department. If this can be done they are willing to have a partisan Police Board of three or five have a partisan Police Board of three of live members.

Negotiations for this conference were made without consulting the committee appointed by Mr. Smith, as the result of the Cooper Union meeting, to prepare legislation to be substituted for the Lexow bills. The result is that the mem-bers of that committee are not pleased. Joseph Larcoque refused to serve on the committee, and C. C. Beaman has resigned therefrom.

HEALY AGAIN TURNED DOWN. for Revenue Collector.

A. Augustus Healy, the Brooklyn anti-snapper. appeared to be surprised yesterday when he heard that the Senate Finance Committee had in decided not to approve of his no as Revenue Collector in that city. His first nomination having been rejected, he was again nominated after the Senate had adjourned. During the few months he has served as Collector he has dismissed all the genuine. Simonpure, Jeffersonian Democrats, as well as the Republicans who were in the office, and has put Shepardites in their places. He had been treasuring the hope that Senator Hill's opposition to him and his methods had been withdrawn, and the news from Washington yesterday was a great blow. He said:

"I had received no notification that I would not be confirmed. I had begun to forget about the matter entirely, so engrossed have I been with my office duties. I presume the Senate will act in accordance with the recommendations of the committee. I am ready at any moment to turn over the office to the one designated by the department at Washington."

Mr. Healy took an active part against Senator Hill in the recent campaign. as Revenue Collector in that city. His first O'Brien Association Incorporated.

ALBANY, Feb. 12.-The John J. O'Brien Assodation of the city of New York was incorporated with the Secretary of State to-day. The certificate recites that the particular business or object of the association shall be to "procure and maintain a meeting place or club room for the use of its members to discuss political measures, to emphasize the duty of every citizen to parthe authority of every citizen to participate in political work at primaries, conventions, and at the polls."

The managers or Executive Committee are: Bernard Rourke, Frederick J. Seelig, Thomas J. Sullivan, Charles Z. Zirnbaum, and Charles Rabe.

Sam Morris of Troy Still Hopeful, The latest job that Sam Morris of Troy is after is Anthony Clinchy's place as Inspector of Gas Meters. The salary is $5,000 a year, and the inspector has the appointment of three as-sistante, at $1,500 a year each, Clinchy's term ex-pires March 30, 1897, but Sam Morris is in the gas meter business in Troy, and he believes that Clinchy is to be fired out and that he is to get the place.

Nominated by the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.-The President to-day WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The President to-day sent to the Senate the following nominations:
Bartholomew Kennedy, Surveyor of Customs at Des Meines, Is, Gldeon D. Bantz, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, Henry M. Fitzgerald, to be Postmaster at Greenwich, Conn.
Navy—Assistant Engineer John E. Myers, to be Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps; Second Lieutenant water Ball, Marine Corps, to be Assistant Engineer (transfers).

Investigators for Syracuse. ALBANY, Feb. 12 .- In the Assembly to-day

Speaker Fish announced the following committees to investigate Syracuse in pursuance of the resolution adopted last night: Mesers. Chap-man, Conkling, Sanger. Audett, and Hoffman.

Ex-Alderman Cavanagh's Daughter Mar

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 12.-John Franklin Noll, of the firm of Porter & Coates of Philadelphia, and Miss Emma W. Cavanagh, daughter of ex-Alderman John Cavanagh of New York, were married yesterday in St. Bridget's Catholic Church by the Rev. Thomas White. The bridge maids were the Misses Lizzie Kelly, Rose Mc-ponald, and Mamie Collins of New York, and Miss Bena Hughes of Newark.

Took Poison in His Beer.

Charles Siebold, an engineer, 22 years old and married, of Somerville, N. J., swallowed rat poison in his beer in Maloney's saloon at 1,007 Second avenue last night. He is in Hariem Hospital. He said that he had come to the city on Sunday to get a job which had been promised to him. He shift get the job. He was out of mone; and didn't want to go home without either money or work. He wandered around the city with little to eat until he entered the saloon.

There's a night's good fun in Chimule Faddon.

LIVE WASHINGTON TOPICS

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN AND ABOUT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Greaham's Chances for Appointment to the Supreme Beach in Case of the Retirement of Judge Jackson Some Social Events.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, Secretary Gresham s not regarded as a Supreme Court possibility by many of the leading members of the Senate in the event of the retirement of Associate Juntice Jackson. Several Senators were discussing this subject at the Capitol to-day, and one of the most distinguished Democrats in that body ventured the prediction that Secretary Gresham ould not be confirmed, even if the President should nominate him for a seat on the bench. It developed during the conversation that Senator Harris introduced the bill providing for the retirement of Judge Jackson with the full knowledge and consent of the Judge and his discuss the subject further than say it is not reasonable to suppose that he would have made such a proposition without the consent of Judge Jackon and his friends. The delay in taking the son and his friends. The delay in taking the bill up and disposing of it does not emanate from Judge Jackson's friends. The Republicans are holding the matter back on the ground, it is alleged, that they do not propose to assist in creating vacancies on the Supreme bench to be filled by Mr. Cleveland. They contend that he would in all probability select some personal or political friend without regard to legal qualifications. On the other hand, some of the Democration of the Company of the Democratical Company of the Democratica neations. On the other hand, some of the Democratic Senators are urging prompt action on the pending bill, so that Mr. Cleveland may make the appointment and give the Senate an opportunity to pass upon the qualifications of the nomines.

Under what Senator Hill calls the liberality of the Senate rules the two most notorious Populists in Congress, Senators Allen and Peffer, have been speaking for two days on subjects entirely foreign to the matter under consideration in the Senate. The Fost Office Appropriation bill is the regular cerier of business, the particular point under discussion being the proposed amendment giving the Postings the Fost master-General full centrol over the appropriations for the fast mail service in order that he can make contracts with the railroad companies independent of any action of Congress. Representatives of the railroad companies are, of course, actively at work in opposition to the amendment, and they have had increased opportunities by the delay caused by the harangues of the Populists Senators. Mr. Peffer has been talking about bonds, and Mr. Allen about the alleged illegal Senatorial election in Alabama. Together they have occupied two days of the Senate time, and although neither has mentioned the Post Office Appropriation bill, there is no rule by which their mouths could be stopped. Populists in Congress, Senators Allen and

United States Treasurer Morgan keeps conspicuously on his desk in the Treasury building a large open autograph book, in which he oba large open autograph book, in which he ob-tains the autograph of every person who calls upon him. In a private drawer of his big desk he has another autograph book, which is en-closed in a thick envelope to prevent its being soiled. In this book Mr. Morgan keeps the au-tograph signatures of all the newspaper men who call at his office. No one who has a mo-ment's conversation with the Treasurer eve-escapes, but he or she must put a signature in the general or special autograph book before leaving. Mr. Morgan thinks a great deal of his collection, which has now grown to be a very large one.

York visitors at the Capitol to-day. He was the guest of Senator Murphy, and he is in Washington to attend the cotillon given by Senator Murphy's daughter to-night. The New York colony in Washington was well represented at Senator Murphy's residence. Secretary and Mrs. Lamont were there, and Senator Hill dropped in during the evening, but did not participate actively in the cotillon. Last year Mrs. and Miss Murphy did not indulige very extensively in the social festivities at the capital, as they were newcomers. This season they have a large acquaintanceship, and their home is one of the most attractive meeting places in the west end. Miss Murphy has assisted Mrs. Cleveland at the White House on several occasions, and she has also been a member of the receiving party at Mrs. Lamont's. She is one of the most noular members of the young accial set, and she is a most gracious hostess. While the ladies of Senator Murphy's family are indulging in the social festivities the Senator is not unmindful of the social code. He has given several magnificent dinner parties, and next Saturday night he will entertain a number of Senators to meet Senator Ransom of North Carolina. guest of Senator Murphy, and he is in Washing-

Carolina. If the demand for individual income tax blank returns is any indication of the number of actual returns that will be made by taxpayers coming returns that will be made by taxpayers coming under its provisions, the amount of money that will be received from the income tax will be much larger than first estimated.

Commissioner Miller at first ordered 300,000 corporation blanks printed and 300,000 individual blanks. The corporation blanks will be sufficient, but all the individual blanks have been exhausted, and a new supply of 300,000 is now being run oif at the Government Printing Office. In some sections, notably in New York city, the Collector of Internal Revenue has not been able to keep up with the demand. All information received at the Treasury indicates a purpose on the part of the people affected to comply with the law.

I. M. Dickinson of Tennasses, the nawly and

J. M. Dickinson of Tennessee, the newly ap-pointed Assistant Attorney-General, to-day duly qualified and entered upon the active discharge

YESTERDAY IN CONGRESS.

Some Reactional Voting in the House on the Tenure of Cierkships,

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The business record of the Senate to-day comprised the passage of all the private pension bills on the calendar, twenty-six in number, and some half dozen bills of a miscellaneous character, including three for public buildings and one for the appointment of a commission of army engineer officers to report as to the new bridge over the Delaware at Philadelphia. No progress was made on the Post Office Appropriation bill, although it was ostensibly under consideration most of the day. The question of election frauds in Alabama was discussed at much length by Mr. Ailen (Pop., Neb.) in continuation of his speech on Monday, and was wound up by the presentation of a protest on the part of the two Alabama Senators (Morgan and Pugh) against the arraignment of their State under such circumstances. The recent State under such circumstances. The recent bond issue arrangements were denounced by Mr. Stewart (Pop., Nev.), who indulged in direful predictions as to the future of the United States under the curse of "gold pooling."

A bill for the free coinage of sliver was reported from the Finance Committee and placed on the calendar, Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) remarking that it had had only a bare majority in committee. A resolution in relation to Presidential appointments of Pestimasters in the State of New York was offered by Mr. Hill (Pom., N. Y.), and was agreed to. At 6:10 P. M. the Senate adjourned.

IN THE HOUSE,

Journed.

IN THE HOUSE.

The bill making appropriations for the legislative, executive, and judicial departments of the Government was passed by the House this afternoop, after three days' consideration, practically as it came from the Committee on Appropriations. It carried, as it came to the House, a total of $21,805,726,52; as it passed, the total was $21,825,676,08. Most of to-day's easion was spent in discussing the appropriation for paying Pension Office employees, upon an amendment offered by Mr. Pickler (itep. S. D.) to maintain the present force of clerks for next year. This was rejected—60 to 132; and the amendment agreed to in Committee of the Whole, to make clerks to members annual instead of sessional employees. A vote by year and nays was demanded on this in the House after an hour's animated and, at times, disorderly, but always good-humored discussion, and it was lost year, 98; nays, 142. The Committee of the Whole, in which no record of the individual votes is kept, twice voted in favor of the amendment—once

NO SECRETARY FOR HOKE. The House Declines to Continue the Appro

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. Congress occasionally oes some queer things. The so-called printing bill that passed a short time ago, after careful preparation by the joint Committee on Printing and after long discussion in the House, provided for a more simple and sensible distribution of public documents than is in operation at present. One of the Government officials who furnished most valuable information to the committee in its work was Dr. Ames, chief of the document division of the Interior Department.
After the hill became a law it was discovered that no provision had been made for the payment of Dr. Ames's salary, but that he had been quietly legislated out of office by the bill which he had helped to prepare, a clear case of being holsted by his own petard.

During the discussion of the Legislative Appropriation hill in the House yesterday somehody raised a point that it continued the appropriation for the payment of a private secretary to the Secretary of the Interior although the law does not recognize such an official. Thereupon the point of order was made against the appropriation. It was sustained by the Chair, and with one gentle strake Hoke Smith's young man was placed outside the breastwork? ent. One of the Government officials who fur-

NEW YORK POSTMASTERS.

Mr. Hill Gets a Resolution Through the Senate Asking About Their Appointment. WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.-Senator Hill's resoution calling upon the Postmaster-General for information relative to the appointments of Postmasters in the State of New York, which the Senate adopted to-day, was introduced for the purpose of drawing a comparison between the policy of the present State Government and the Federal Government in the matter of appointments. The New York Senators have had ittle or nothing to say in the selection of Postmasters and other Federal officers, notwith standing the alleged reconciliation between

President Cleveland and Senator Hill,
After the White House dinner at which Sens-

for Hill was a guest, many New Yorkers imagined that the senior Senator from New York would have considerable influence in the dis

When Mr. Bissell and Mr. Maxwell began their the victors belong the spoils," and Democratic concluded that he would like to know what had

Senator Hill has taken this means of as-certaining how the present Administration compares with the previous Administration in regard to postal appointments. Senator Hill's resolution calls on the Post-master-General for the following information relative to Post Offices in New York: The num-ber of Presidential Post Offices; the number of other Post Offices; the number of Post-masters in Presidential offices appointed by President Harrison and allowed by President Cleveland to serve out their full terms and the masters in Presidential offices appointed by President Harrison and allowed by President Cleveland to serve out their full terms, and the number removed for cause before the expiration of their terms; the number of Postmasters in Presidential offices appointed by President Harrison whose terms have expired for which no nominations have been made; what policy has been adopted by the present Administration in reference to Postmasters of offices (other than Presidential) who are appointed for no fixed terms whether they have been removed at pleasure or allowed to serve a term of four years; the number of such Postmasters appointed by the present Administration who are still in office and the number who were permitted to serve out a full term of four years, but whose successors have been appointed, and the number who have served such period who are still in office.

REPUBLICANS AND THE SENATE.

Auxlety in Washington About the Dead-

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.- The Senate Republicans are very much disturbed over the unsatisfactory outlook for the breaking of the Senatorial deadlock in the States of Idaho, Oregon, and Delaware. The Republicans have been giving much consideration to the question whether spring in case there should be an extra session.

or whether they would prefer to postpone the matter until next winter. Their calculations on this point are affected somewhat by the fact, not have a majority, but simply a plurality of the Senate, and must depend upon the support of at least one of the Populists. It is possible locks in Oregon, Idaho, and Delaware, for the asking.

R. A. Gunn, M. D., of New York city, is known to the medical profession and to the public throughout the entire land. He has had an opportunity of seeing people's needs, both as Professor of Surgery in the Initiod States Medical College and in his extensive practice. In speaking about one of his patients who was afficted with the most terrible of all medern maladies, Bright's disease of the kidneys, he said:
"A chemical and microscopical examination of the patient's urine revealed quantities of albumen and granular tube casts, confirming bright's disease. After trying all of the other remedies in vain, I directed him to use Warner's Safe Cure. I was greatly surprised to observe a decided improvement within a month. Within four months ne tube casts could be tribution of the few remaining Federal appointments in his State. His correspondence has been exceedingly heavy on that line, but he has not sought to change the conditions that have existed between him and the Postmaster General since the advent of the present Administration. dministration of the postal affairs, it was understood that the New York Senators were not to be consulted about New York appointments. They made no attempt to urge their advice or counsel upon the Postmaster-General or his assistant, observe a decided improvement within a month, within four months no tube casts could be found, and only a trace of albumen, and, as he expressed it, he felt perfectly well."

Dr. Gunn's experience only confirms what other physicians and millions of people have known for many years: that for all female troubles, all kidney difficulties, and even Bright's disease itself, there is but one standard, one well-known remedy in the world, and that is Warner's Safe Cure. If you are suffering from any symptoms, such as pain in the back, occasional nausea, pains in the muscles, bearing-down sensations, or any of those unmiscable signs which indicate the coming on of this great trouble, you should not delay a moment, but be warned in time.—Adv. believing that if it was desired it might be had Hill says he has received information from all parts of his State announcing that the Republicans, since they obtained control of the State Government, have enforced the policy of "to heads are being lopped off in every direction. As he had not been consulted by the Federal Administration on the subject of Postmasters he

ARMY AND NAVY NEWS.

Appointments of Examining Boards for concluded that he would like to know what had been done in his State in that direction. The rule of permitting fourth-class Postmasters to serve out a four years' term originated with the present Administration, and it may have sparred the Postmaster-General and Assistant Postmaster-General Maxwell considerable trouble, but it has created great dissatisfaction among the rank and file of the Democratic party, and the policy is not appreciated by the Republicans, except that they are willing to hold on so long as the Democratic Administration continues them in office.

It is pretty well understood that if Secretary Lamont's advice had been followed the New York Senators would have received more favorable consideration, but Postmaster-General Bissell and Mr. Maxwell have been permitted to dominate the policy of the Government in relation to New York Post Offices, consequently Senator Hill has taken this means of saccertaining how the present Administration disting of Pay Director F. C. Cosby and Pay In Lieut G W Tyler has been examined by a Medical Board, and has three months' leave preparatory to appearing for retirement on account of physical disability.

Commander W. W. Reissinger has been ordered as President of the general court martial meeting at the Washington Navy Yard in the place of Commander Thomas Nelson, relieved. Lieut. A. C. Almy has been ordered to examination for promotion at Mare Island. On March 1 236 candidates and alternates for vacancies at the West Point Military Academy will appear at the army posts near their homes for examination as to their qualifications for admission. There are now about 140 vacancies, and of this number Congressmen have nominated candidates for all except 28, who will be named before the examinations begin. Under the present rule of the department, candidates are no longer examined in a bunch at West Point in June, as in former years, but in order to save the expense incident to the journey, which in the case of young men coming from the far West 11 considerable, candidates have been directed to appear at the army posts near their homes, where they will be subjected to the ordeal, and the papers then forwarded to West Point for final revision.

There are vacancies in New York State from the Fifth, Ninth, and Twelfth districts, which have not yet been filled. The Eighth district has already named its candidate. To-day the following Boards were designated to meet at the different army posts to examine the candidates:

At Fort Adams, R. L. Major Henry Lippencott, Surgeon Cant. Entrain T. C. Riethmond. Second Artifacen. vacancies at the West Point Military Academy

that the Legislatures now in deadlock ov-election of Senators may expire without ng elected anybody.
Should the three States fail to elect members Should the three States fail to elect members by vote of the Legislature, owing to contests and deadlocks, there is no possibility of their being represented for two years, as the decision of the Senate in the case of Mantle, Reckwith, and Allen, who were prevented in 1893 from taking their seats, will probably deter the Governors of Deiaware, idaho, and Oregon from attempting to fill the vacancies by appointment. In this event the Republicans will be considerably handicapped in their efforts to bring about ably handicapped in their efforts to bring about a reorganization of the Senate.

When Senator Wilson of Washington is sworn in to-morrow, the Senate will contain, for the first time in two years, its full quota of eighty-eight members. Of these the Democrats will have forty-three, the Republicans forty, and the Populists five, a majority being forty-five. Should all of the three States that are now deadlocked succeed in electing the Senators, the Senate after the 4th of March will still con-tain eighty-eight members, of whom the Renubdeadlocked succeed in electing the Senators, the Senate after the 4th of March will still contain eighty-eight members, of whom the Republicans will have forty-three, the Democrats thirty-nine, and the Populists six. If, however, these States should fail to elect, the condition of things two years ago will be repeated, and the Senate will have but eighty-five members, a majority being forty-three. The Republicans will have forty, the Democrats thirty-nine, and the Populists six.

Although the margin between the Republicans and a majority will be increased by this event the Republicans will still be in the plurality by one vote. The Populists will retain their balance of power. Nor will the situation change after the admission of Utah. On the convening of Congress in December, with Utah, represented in the Senate, as is now generally expected, by two Republicans, the Senate will stand: Republicans, 42; Democrats, 19: Populists, 6, a total of 87, three vacancies still existing. The majority will under those circumstances be forty-four, or two more than the Republicans strength. With the vacancies filled, and the total membership increased to its normal number of 90, the Republicans will have 45 votes, while 46 will be a majority.

It will be seen that in a measure the election in Utah will have considerable bearing upon the complexion of the next Senate, in this, that if the three vacancies should not be filled, Utah might, by sending two Democrats to the Senate, give the Democrats a plurality after Dec. 1 of one vote over the Republicans.

CONGRESS IS MIXED FINANCIALLY. A Free Silver Bill in the Senate and a Gold Bond Plan in the House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.-The financial situation in Congrest is becoming almost Indicrous. In the House the Ways and Means Committee have begun to hold secret meetings for the purpose of concealing from the public the facts of Secretary Carlisle's negotiations with the New York bankers, and the Administration Democrats and the Republicans are organizing to pass a bill providing for gold bonds, so that the vernment can save $15,000,000 in interest charges. In the Senate a combination of Demcrats and Republicans is organizing to pass a free silver bill, and with every prospect of success. The free coinage Senators have votes emough, and the only question is whether they will be able to guide their bill through the maze of appropriation bills and other measures that will necessarily have the right of way for the few remaining days of the session.

What one House or the other does on the financial question is not important however, in view of the absolute impossibility of the passage of any bill through both Houses this session. All of the manouvers how, however, are merely the preliminary skirmishes for the work of next congress. The Hepublicans are indicating the policy that they will pursue when they come into power, and the Senate is giving agiles to the country that the silver men are incontrol, and that a free coinage bill will be passed. Under the circumstances there is every promise of a deadlock between the silver and gold men in the next tongress, with a more determined light between them than has taken place since the Sherman Silver Purchase law was repealed. free silver bill, and with every prospect of suc-

Approved by the President.

Washington, Feb. 12.-The President has approved the act to establish a national military park at tiettysburg, I'a., and the act changing the name of tieorgetown, in the District of Co-lumbia, which provides that it shall constitute a part of the city of Washington.

A Bangerous New Counterfelt.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. - A new and dangerous unterfeit of the $5 silver certificate, series of 1886, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, and E. H. Nebeker, Treasurer, has been put into circulation. Warning has been sent out by circulars from the Secret Service Department.

West Point Candidates.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.-The President has filled the vacancy in the pay corps of the navy by appointing E. A. Jonas, son of ex-Senator lonas of Louisiania; and to-day a Board, conspector L. A. Fraley, with Paymaster Livingson Hunt as recorder was ordered to examine the candidate as to his qualifications for admis-

At Fort Adams, R. I.—Major Henry Lippencott, Sur geon; Capt. Ephraim T. C. Riehmond, Second Artif cry; Robert H. Hall, Assistant Surgeon; Alexander D Schenck, Second Artillery; First Lieut, Schree Smith Second Artillery Serienck, Second Arthilery; First Lieut, Schree Smith, Second Arthilery, Col. Charles T. Alexander, Assistant Surgeon; Aller Col. Charles T. Alexander, Assistant Surgeon; Veren; Capt. William H. Corbusier, Assistant Surgeon; James Fornance, Thirteenth Infantry; First Lieut, Marion R. Senford, Thirteenth Infantry, First Lieut, Marion R. Senford, Thirteenth Infantry, At Fort Melleury, Maryland Major Charles K, Winne, Surgeon; Capt. Barry O. Ferley, Assistant surgeon; Richard P. Strong, Fourth Arthlery; James L. Wilson, Fourth Arthlery; James L. Wilson, Fourth Arthlery, James L. Wilson, Fourth Arthlery, James L. Wilson, Fourth Arthlery, James L. Surgeon; Capt. Louis lirechemin, Assistant Surgeon; First Lieut, William A. Mann, Seventeenth Infantry, James T. Kerr, Seventeenth Infantry, and William C. Wrenn, Adjutant Seventeenth Infantry, and William C. Wrenn, Adjutant Seventeenth Infantry, At Fort McPherson, deorgia-Major Van Buren Hubbard, Surgeon; Capt. Leonard Wood, Assistant Surgeon, First Llout, J. C. Tillson, Fifth Infantry; William F. Martin, Fifth Infantry; Frank O. Kalk, William F. Martin, Fifth Infantry; Frank O. Kalk, Pifth Infantry, Louis Joseph G. they would care to organize the Senate in the however, that after the 4th of March they will

Fifth Infantry.

At Jackson Barracks, Louisiana—Major Joseph G.
Rainsay, Third Artillery: Capt. Junius L. Powell,
Assistant Surgeon; W. G. Gorgas, Assistant Surgeon;
First Lieut. Henry H. Ludlow Third Artillery; Charles
C. Gailop, Third Artillery.
At Fort Sam Houston, Texas—Lieut. Col. Jacob F.
Kent. Eighteenth Infantry; Lieut. Col. Guy V. Henry, Fifth Cavalry: Major Louis M. Maus. Surgeon; Capt.
Jacob A. Augur, Fifth Cavalry: Robert J. Gibson, Assistant Surgeon. At Fort Sheridan, Illinois Major Alfred C. Girard, At Fort Sheridan, Illinois Major Alfred C. Girard, Surgeon: Unit, Norton Strong, Assistant Surgeon; Ed-

Surgeon; Capt. Norton Strong, Assistant Surgeon; Edward S. Capin, Fifteenth Infantry; Allyn Capron, First Artillery; Charles A. Varnium, Seventh Cavalry; At Jefferson Barracks, Missouri-Major Robert H. White, Surgeon: Capt. Charles B. Ewing, Assistant Surgeon: George K. Hunter, Third Cavalry; First Lieuts, Frankin O. Johnson, filled Cavalry; First Lieuts, Frankin O. Johnson, filled Cavalry; Seephen H. Elliott, Fifth Cavalry, Kansas-Lieut, Col. John N. Andrews, Twenty-fifth Infantry; Major Calvin De Witt, Surgeon; Capt. John M. Rantster, Assistant Surgeon; John B. Kerr, Sixth Cavalry; W. H. Carter, Sixth Cavalry; Surgeon; John B. Kerr, Sixth Cavalry; W. H. Carter, Sixth Cavalry; Major Chemping, Minnegota-Lieut-Col. Edward Miale, Third Infantry, Capt. W. C. Borden, Assistant Surgeon; Capt. F. W. Roe, Third Infantry; Dirac I. Howard, Assistant Surgeon.

At Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoning, Lieut Col. Frank P. Avery, Third Infantry; Dean C. Howard, Assistant Surgeon.

At Fort b, A. Russell, Wyoming—Lieut-Col. George M. Randall, Highth Infantry, Major Joseph K. Corseo, Surgeon; Major W. H. Risbee, Seventeenth Infantry; Capt. George McCreery, Assistant Surgeon; Frat Lieut. Edgar Hubert, Eighth Infantry.

At San Diego Parracks, California—Majors Timothy E. Wilcox, Surgeon; Thomas M. K. Smith, First Infantry, Frederick B. Crandal, Third Infantry; Capt. Frank De L. Carrington, First Infantry, First Lieut. Frank T. Meriwether, Assistant Surgeon.

At Vancouver Harracks, Washington—Lieut-Col. H. A. Theaker, Fourteenth Infantry; Lieut-Col. W. D. Wolverton, Deputy Surgeon General, Capitaina W. H. Arthur, Assistant Surgeon. W. B. Reynolds, Fourteenth Infantry; Pirst, Lieut, C. H. Mortteenth Infantry; Pirst, Lieut, C. H. Mortte, Fourteenth Infantry.

The extension of leave granted Capt. G. D. Hoyle, First Cavelry, is further extended ten-days. Leave for one month, on surgeon's certi-cate of disability, is granted Major W. M. Wal-ficate of disability, is granted Major W. M. Wallace, Second Cavairy,

The following assignments to regiments of officers recently promoted are ordered: Capt.
Hugh L. Scott, to the Seventh Cavairy, Troop
I; First Lieutenant Francis H. Beach, to the Seventh Cavairy, Troop L. He will proceed to join his station, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, to-morrow,
First Lieutenant A. Gray, to the Eighth Cavairy, Troop A. He will proceed to his station, Fort Yates, N. D.

First Lieutenant A. Gray, to the rights awairy. Troop A. He will proceed to his station. Fort Yates, N. D.,

The following transfers in the Seventh Cavalry are ordered: Capt. Henry J. Nowlan, from Troop M to Troop I; Capt. Edward G. Mathey, from Troop L to Troop M; Capt. Hugh L. Scott, from Troop I to Troop L. Capt. Mathey will proceed to his proper station. Fort kiley, Kan. First Licut. J. W. Harmon, Sixth Cavalry, will be relieved from ducy with the Seventh Cavalry, and will proceed to join his station. Fort Meyer, Va.

and will proceed to join his station, Fort Meyer, V.a.

Capt. Wells Willard, Commissary of Subsistence, will perform the duties of Chief Commissary of Subsistence, Department of Missouri, during the absence of Liout.-Col. Jeremiah H. tillman, Assistant Commissary-General of Subsistence, on leave.

Leave for two months is granted Lieut.-Col. J. H. Gilman. Leave for one month with permission to apply for an extension of one month is granted Second Lieut. Edmund L. Butts. Twenty-first infantry. Leave for one month, to take effect from the date of his relief from duty with the National Guard of Pennsylvania, is granted Capt. Chas A. Boath. Seventh lufantry, Lieut.-Col. W. M. Wherry, Second Infantry, is appointed Military Secretary on the staff of the Lieutenant-General of the Army.

Special orders, as details, First Lieut. Philip P. Powell, Ninth Cavalry, as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Grove City College, Pa., is revoked, and he will report to the commanding officer of his regiment not later than April 27.

Leave granted First Lieut, Philip P. Powell, April 27.
Leave granted First Lieut, Philip P. Powell, Ninth Cavairy, is extended two months.
Additional Second Lieut, J. F. Melindoe, Corps of Engineers, is assigned to a vacancy of Second Lieutenant in that corps, vice Harding, pro-

> Cure That Cures

Is the kind most people desire. Such a cure is Ripans Tabules, but not a cure for everything. They are for liver and stomach disorders, and Ripans Tabules: Sold by druggists, or by mail if you send the price this cents a low; to Ripans Chemical Company, 10 Spruce at, New York.

one tabule gives relief.

ADRY HAYWARD'S STORY. REV. CHARLES S.

HIS TESTIMONY AGAINST HIS BROTHER IN THE MURDER TRIAL.

He Blames His Family for Trying to Help

Harry Out-His Paintel Revolutions of Family Discord The Defence Will Try to Show that Instally Runs in the Family MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 12. - The Hayward family skeleton made its appearance to-day. It was made evident from Adry Hayward's testimony that for a long time the two brothers have been at variance with each other, and to-day Adry was questioned regarding numerous quarrels. Throughout to-day's examination Mrs. W. W. Hayward, mother of Adry and Harry, sat be side Mr. Erwin and prompted him during the cross examination.

Mr. Erwin expects to prove Adry Hayward nsane, and also proposes to use his brother, Dr. Thuildens Hayward, as a witness. It is also intimated that Adry will be shown to be the man who made the trip with Blixt out on the Excelsior road where Miss Ging was murdered. He is accused of having said to Elixt that night: "Be sure to bring the iron with you; if you have any trouble Frank will be there to telp you."

" Who is this man Frank?" Adry was asked. "I don't know a man answering to the name of Frank, to my present recollection," was the decided answer.

Once when Mrs. Hayward, his mother, had been prompting the defence, and the question came from Erwin in sharp accents, Adry denied t with a withering emphasis, and the mother shook her head violently as though to say that he lied.

"Don't shake your head, mother," he cried, raising his voice in a painfully strained tone. 'It is the truth, and you know it. I will tell everything-all."

"Tell it-tell it all!" replied Mrs. Hayward, 'Tell everything you can!"

Adry Hayward will be able to prove an alibi in case charges of murder are preferred against him by the defence. An effort will be made to discredit this evidence, it is said, and to show that at the time Harry Hayward is alleged to have been taiking to Blixt on the Kenwood Boulevard, Adry was there and Harry in an-

Mr. Erwin tried to show that to Adry had een promised immunity from punishment if he would testify against his prother, but the Court would testify against his brother, but the Court would not allow the question nor another one as to why he remained in the custody of an officer, though not in [ail.]

Q.—On Oct. 7. 1884, were you not out of your mind? A.—I can't say as to that.

Q.—Did not you curse and swear and threaten to kill your father and mother? A.—Well. I had some trouble over money. Harry came in dragging father, and he lay down on the lounge. There was a shortage, but I explained it. Harry was trying to make the trouble.

Harry smiled broadly at this point.

"Yea, you smile," said the witness, "but you know it's so. I accused Harry of stealing the money from my flat—mind, I don't say he did it, but I accused him then and there. Mether spoke up, and I told her that if she could not trust her sons, why did she raise such a litter of spoke up, and I told her that if she could not trust her sons, why did she raise such a litter of pups. Then I got mad, and when Harry threatened to frip me up with a knife I went to get my revolver and said I would let Harry wound me, but if he did I would blow his brains out. My wife can swear to that—you needn't shake your head, mother," cried the witness. "That was the first trouble I had with my mother, and if it had not been for Harry I would never have had that trouble."

During the examination witness said he did

that trouble."

During the examination witness said he did not blame Harry for trying to defend himself in his suit, but he did blame the family for letting itself be brought into disgrace by helping him out. He thought the family owed something to itself. He hated to testify against his bother, but he had some rights, and did not think he had to be dragged down on his brother's account.

Q.—Weren't you always jealous of your brother? A.—No, sir.
Q.—Did you ever threaten your brother with violence? A.—Once, when my brother said he could get a man for $15 to send me to Stillwater, I said I knew enough to send him to Stillwater, and father was right there and heard it. heard it.

When Adry's testimony was concluded a number of insurance agents were called, and they testified that Miss Ging said she wanted the policies for collateral and that the policies or policies or collateral and the policies or sentember.

policies for collateral, and that the policies or some of them, were taken out in September, Harry Hayward, the evidence showed, had made all the preliminary arrangements.

Frederick White, a solicitor for the New Eng-land Mutual Life Insurance Company, was called, and testified that on Sept 10 Harry Hay-ward called at his office and talked about acco-ward called at his office and talked about nego-tiating a policy upon a woman's life to cover a less of $1,000 he said he had loaned her.

Mr. White told him that the company would not assign to him the entire policy for $3,000 to cover a loan of $1,000, but that it would set aside $1,000. Harry could not see why the whole policy should not be assigned to him so long as he paid the premium. Mr. White un-derstood that the loan had already been made. County Attorney Nye said that the prosect-tion would rest at noon to-morrow. J. F. MeGee, who represented the State in the tion would rest at noon to-morrow.

J. F. McGee, who represented the State in the taking of the affidavits in Illinois on the insanity in the Hayward ancestry, returned to Minneapolis this morning. A large amount of testimony was secured for use during the trial.

DID SHE DIE OF HER BURNS?

Doctors Suspect that Mrs. Eva Young's Sudden Collapse Was Due to Polson,

There is a suspicion that the death of Mrs. Eva Young at the Brooklyn Hospital on Saturday night may have been caused by poison and not by the burns she received at her home, 36 Fort Greene place, on Jan.30. The doctors at the hospital were as much mystifled over the woan's death as they had been surprised at the manner in which she had rallied from the effects f the severe burns. When she reached the hospital it was thought hat she would not live many hours, but she seen recovered from the shock and seemed to be steadily improving. Two hours before her death there seemed to be an excellent chaines of her recovery. There was nothing in her condi-tion whatever to foreshadow the sudden collapse.

The autopsy falled to give a satisfactory explanation of her death. The burns in themselves were not sufficient, in the opinion of the doctors, to account for it. Under these circumstances Dr. Kene, the Coroner, decided that an investigation should be made pending the invest.

stances Dr. Kene, the Coroner, decided that an investigation should be made pending the inquest.

He had the stomach removed and forwarded to Dr. Volkmer, the chemist of the Health Department, so that the contents might be analyzed. Dr. Volkmer will report in a few days, some of the physicians who have studied the case think that poison may be discovered. If it is, the police will probably be called in to assist in the unraveiling of the mystery.

Mrs. Young was the wife of Charles Young, who had formerly been a buyer for Journeay & Burnham. The married life of the Youngs aparently had been harmonious until a short time before Mr. Young severed his connection with this firm, early in November.

On the day after Christmas Mrs. Young disappeared, and on the following night presented herself at Police Headquarters, in Springfield, Mass., and declared that she had been improperly intimate with a Brooklyn merchant and engaged in a scheme to blackmail him. Her husband, who was sent for, said that her mental condition was such that no reliance could be placed on any statement she might make.

She was no once brought back to beer home in Brooklyn, and on the morning after her return she mide an attempt to kill herself by jumping from a second-story window. She was still suffering from the effects of the fall when she made the second attempt at stickle by pooring oil on her clothing and setting fire to ft. Her husband the second attempt at stickle by pooring oil on her clothing and setting fire to ft. Her husband the second attempt at suicide by touring oil on her clothing and setting fire to it. Her husband appeared to be greatly solicitons for her comfort and recovery, and visited her two or three times a day at the bospital. His last visit to her hed-side was about two hours before her death.

A Williamsburgh Midwife Missing

Mrs. Amelia Neunfeint, a midwife, has been missing from her tlat at 201 Knickerbocker aveme, Williamsburgh, for two weeks. The before she disappeared her husband, who had died of heart disease, was buried in Lutheran Cemetery. When he left her on the marning he died he had $15 and a diament ring. When the body was brought to his home $25 and the diamont ring were missing. Mrs. Nemfeint said she notified the police, but that nothing was done in the case. She sain she thought he had been killed. Special Policeman Petinis Winter of the Lee Avenue Police tourt, who tives next deer to Mrs. Nemfeint asked distilled tiesting for an order to break into her rosms, as he believed she had combutted soudd. Me fore he could do as hove got into the life from the rear windows, and say nothing of her. Cemetery. When he left her on the morning

Burglars Enter a Restaurant.

John Stroub, brother-in-law of Charley Mitchell and proprietor of Stroub's Oyster Hay, 2,2386 Third avenue, suffered from a daring burgiarly which was committed early yesterday norning. When the place was opened at o'clock he found the large plate giass in the o'clock he found the large plate glass in the front door broken. The drawer of the cach reg-ister was bying on the floor empty and $15 in change, a gold gen, and a revolver wors gone. The showcase had been broken open and the boxes of clears were taken. The dyster home is between the offices of the Third Avenue Rail-road and the entrance to the tilympic Theatre, Strond did not close the place until 2 o'clock. No arrests have been made.

ROBINSON, D. D.,

Editor of "Songs for the Sanctuary," "Laudes Domini," and other well-known hymn books, writes October 23, 1894: "Not once in many years have we been without Pond's Extract in our house. My family prizes it as we do the presence of an old and true friend. It fulfils every promise it makes and is a help to every one of us."

Richard Lannitz Pirsson died at his residence, 34 West Sixty-sixth street, on Sunday morning, aged 48 years. The cause of death was peritouitle, and a distressing symptom was histouitle, and a distressing symptom was born in New York and had lived here all listlife. For several years he had been a dealer in granite at 19 Park place. He was a nephew of J. H. Morris of West Chester. Mr. Pirsson is survived by a widow and two chidren.

widow and two chidren.

Israel Holmes, 72 years old, one of the best-known citizens of Waterbury, Conn., for the last half century, died yesterday. He was a director of the Benedict & Burnham Company, the Waterbury Watch Company and the Waterbury Clock Company, the Uakville Pin Company, and the Company of Torrington. He was also senior partner in the banking firm of Holmes & Parsons, He served several terms in the General Assembly.

L Augustus Stenler augustated a forement

I. Augustus Stenler, appointed a foreman in the Street Cleaning Department last week at the request of Comptroller Fitch, died on Mon-day. He was for several years a delegate to the Republican County Committee from the Tweniblican County Committee from the Twen-wenth district. He was formerly employed e Navy Yard.

Pinckney Amarr died on Sunday at his home.
Pinckney Amarr died on Sunday at his home.
S2 Monroe street, Brooklyn, at the age of 64.
He was formerly President of the Purcell Manufacturing Company, and had been engaged of late years in the real estate business. He was active in Republican politics.

The Rev. Father Norvett Baldwin, O. M. C., died at Terre Haute yesterday under the surgeon's knife. He was assistant paster of St. Joseph's Roman Cathedrai Church in that city. His former home was at Hoboken N. J. Dr. L. C. Rose, a well-known physician and the inventor of the Rose long-distance tele-phone, died at his home at Palmyra, O., on Tuesday, of pneumonia. He was 45 years old.

The Rev. W. L. Garland, ex-Chancellor of Vanderblit University, and one of the best-known educators in the South, died yesterday in Nashville, aged 85.

Sidney Scotteld is dead at Fishkill Landing, aged 58 years, He was a son of the late Gen. Jacob L. Scotleld. The Duchess Stana Petrovitch, mother of the Prince of Montenegro, is dead.

Secret Rowing Has Been Abolished at

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 12.-The objections able policy of secret rowing at Harvard was abolished to-night, and in the future the work of the crews will be open to the public. The news is welcomed by Harvard men, who have bitterly opposed the secret scheme. Student opinion practically forced the rowing authorities to reschid their former edict.

The 'varsity eight have rowed in very much the same order for nearly a week. The crew appeared this afternoon as follows: Hollister. stroke; Perkins, 7; Stevenson, 6; Manning, 5; Snepard, 4; Lewis, 3; Buillard, 2; Watson, bow.

The Members of the Institute Boat Club

Entertained. The annual minstrel entertainment and reception of the Institute Boat Club of Newark was held last night in the Auditorium of that city. The hall was prettily decorated, the banners and trophies won by the club's scullers being especially attractive. The members and friends of the club were out in force, many ladies being present. The early hours of the evening were spent in fun and laughter over the wit and humor of the ministrels. The show was followed by dancing, which continued until a late hour.

Spaiding's Team Beaten at Hockey and Polo. LONDON, Ont., Feb. 12.-Spalding's hockey and polo team of Chicago played a game each of hockey and polo with the London team last of heckey and pole with the London team lass night. The visitors were outplayed at all points, the home team winning both games by the following secres: Hockey—London S; Spalding, 1. Polo—London, 1; Spalding, 0.

Tohonto, Ont., Feb. 12.—The Winnipeg hockey team easily defeated the Osgoods of Toronto last night by a score of 11 to 4.

INGRESOLE, Ont., Feb. 12.—Spalding's team played hockey against a picked team from ingersoll and Woodstock here this evening. The game was an easy thing for the home team, who won by a score of 6 to 1. The Chicago team play in St. Thomas to-morrow. Satisfactory to the Pimileo Driving Club spring trotting circuit upon which they have held an option since the meeting held at New York last week. The dates are May 21 to 24, the class races.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 .- The Pimlico Driving

A Bartender's Suicide,

George Ruppert ended a long course of dissipation by putting a bullet in his head yesterday afternoon in the cellar of 86 Greenwich street, Sharin Reiser keeps a saloon and salors boarding house at that address, and Ruppert was employed by him as bartender. Through the death of his father and mother in Germany a year ago the bartender came into a small amount of money, which he proceeded to spend in dissipation. He had been drinking heavily since Saturday. Ruppert was 32 years old and unmarried.

The storm reported developing on the Gulf coast on Monday was central yesterday on the South Atlantic coast, moving northeastward, and showing a gradual and snow south to Vicksburg, over the central Mississippi States, throughout the Tennessee and Ohio val-icys, and thence east to the middle Atlantic coast, This storm is likely to increase in force as it travels up the coast. Each of the storm area there was an area of high pressure central over Wyoming, throwing of colder northwest winds, which is likely to give this region colder weather to-morrow. Light snow fell in this city in the early afternoon; highest official temperature 30°, lowest 17°; average humbility, 81 per cent; what northwest, becoming variable, average velocity 6 miles an hour; baromete corrected to read to sea level at 8 A. M., 29.95; BP ing, recorded the temperature yesterday as follows: Average on Feb. 12, 1894 2652 WASHINGTON FORECAST FOR WEINERDAY, For Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont, snow

flurries: variable winds. For Massachusetts, Rhode Bland, Connecticut, and castern New York, more; winds becoming northeasterly, For New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania, show; eartheast winds, high on the coast. For West Virginia, western Pennsylvania, western

A warm shampoo with Cutlcura Soap, and a single application of Cuticura, the great Skin Cure, clear the scalp and hair of crusts, scales, and dandruff, allay itching, soothe irris tation, stimulate the hair fulficles, and nourish the roots, thus producing Luxuriant Hair, with a clean, wholesome scalp, when all else fails.

Sold throughout the world. Furran Dave & Cusa. Conn., Sois Props., Boston, U. S. A.